IV
Quarta parte

Porta di ferro larga

Botta doppia: falso strongly to his sword mandritto tondo to the leg left foot back, then right foot strongly forward

*Guardia di gombito **

Roverso sgualembrato

left foot strongly to his right side

Guardia di croce

He attacks the head: parry with the falso left foot strongly behind the right

Becca possa

Falso manco

right foot forward

Porta di ferro alta

Botta doppia: Marozzo allows the mandritto to the leg or the head; this reading cuts to the leg and keeps the original footwork.

Read each row left to right. Blows are written above the arrows, footwork below in italics.
Each part opens in the guard where the last one ended, shown faded; a long part carries on to the next row.
*Figures are Marozzo's own woodcuts from the 1536 edition. * Guardia di gombito has no plate in Book III; it is pieced together from two of his: the upper body of becca possa (left foot leading) on the legs of intrare non in largo passo (right foot leading).*
